In honor of President's Day, introducing, high as the balls on a giraffe (in Massachusetts), your next President of these United States: Jim Flannery. AMA, though, please also tell me something you would want the next President to know.

Hi Jim(s), I hope you're all doing well. Finding an email from you in my inbox is always a treat; over the past year your content has been unpredictable but interesting nonetheless. I'm curious, though, as to what you've been up to? Stay safe out there,

Your friend from PL

hey Jim,

I remember years ago you did this talk at MIT Spark. Really enjoyed that.

What have you been up to these days?
